American Force Proceeds to Yavisa by Tug-Will Guard Trans-Isthmian Road from Darien-Keen Interest in Army Circles at Washington—Arrival of Gen. Bell. Torpedo Boats Going.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OLON (Panama) Dec. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A force of ma-, rines under Capt. Butler, from the United States auxiliary cruiser Prairie, was sent to Panama from here today. They embarked there on a tug and were taken to Tavisa, 100 miles below Panama.

The first offensive move against Colombia involves American forces xclusively, and it is believed to be the beginning of what may prove a long-drawn-out guerrilla campaign. The force sent today is under orders to guard the trans-isthmian road from Darien, over which the Colombian army is supposed to be advancing.

The United States force is expected to check the Colombian advance. This, it is believed, will result in a sharp conflict between the two forces, the outcome of which may depend upon the strength of the Colombian troops numerically.

other points inland, to keep any possible Colombian invasion in check.

The expedition that started today is under command of Capt. Smedley D. Butler. Tavisa is some distance inland on the Tuira River, which empties into San Miguel Gulf.

the movement of marines southward from Panama, based as it was on the reported landing of Colombian troops in that part of the isthmus, was received today, with keen interest in army circles, where there has been exhibited for some time a desire to perticipate with the navy in any military movements on the isthmus. The General Staff gave the subject inimediate attention. There was, however, no outcome in the shape of orders to troops, though the arrival here of Brigi-Gen. J. Franklin Bell, supernitioned to the General Staff College at Leavenworth, was regarded as confirming the previous statements to the effect that the army is making ready to do its share at a moment's notice. Gen. Bell was in consultation with mome of the members of the General Staff College.

YALLEJO, Dec. 14.—The employes of the storehouse department were busy all Sunday transporting stores to the Solace, which will leave, probably Thursday or Friday, for the lower bay. The sensational report that "the entire torpedo fleet is ordered to Panama" is not confirmed officially. So far, the Perry and the Paul Jones are the only torpedo boats with orders to go to Panama. These two boats are now ready to leave for the lower bay, but await the arrival of some of the officers from the East. The New York is now on her way from Bremerton to San Francisco, and may receive ton to San Francisco, and may receive York is now on her way from Bremer-ton to San Francisco, and may receive orders to go from there to the isthmus. BAILEY ON HONESTY. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.-Mr. Balley declared that the President, by the course followed in the treaty, had perrormed an insolent usurpation of the privileges of the House. Why did the House, he declared, so mildly execute the Presidents' will? It was because the House was under the Mass., P. Turner of Mobile, J. Burtley of Providence and J. Turner of New York. It was awarded to Tully. In the Lotus Theology, T. Ryan of Boston drew for the first medal, and P. Schaefiee of Milwaukee drew for the second medal. In moral theology P. Turner of Mobile got the first medal and the second was awarded to M. O'Gara of New York. In the history prizes P. Doyle of Springfield drew for the second medal. In the canon law prizes P. Schaeffel, J. Boilen of Philadelphia, T. Ryan of Boston and M. Schaef of Philadelphia drew for the second medal. In sacred archaeology P. Doyle received the first medal and E. Ryan and M. Ryan drew for the second medal, which M. Ryan received. In logic, Scullen of Cleveland drew for the second medal, in higher mathematics, Everett of Hartford drew for the med. administration lash. Mr. Balley said that the first argument advanced in support of the bill was that it was a duty to the suffering Cubans, but, driven from cover, the friends of the bill say that it is a great commercial stroke.

"But," said Mr. Bailey, "I say those who will reap the benefits are the sugar and tobacco trusts, and they have no right to it. I believe the Republican Senators are honest in their support. In fact, I do not think there is any difference between the two sides of this chamber on questions of honesty. I believe the sole difference is one of intelligence."

Senator Spooner observed: "You pay us a high compliment."

It was stated by a well-known lawyer today that the statutes of limitations in those cases expired last November and that if the present charges against the accused men should be found defective, it would be impossible to bring new indictments against them. All of the cases are before the Supreme Court on appeal, and the records show that each case was tried on information furnished by the Circuit Attorney on his official oath.

METHODISTS DIVIDE OVER AMUSEMENTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Under discussion today was the famous "amusement paragraph" in the Book of Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal church at the Methodist preachers' meeting. The speaker was Rev. J. A. Hensey of Trinlity Church, Paterson.

Rev. Mr. Hensey said frankly that he was in favor of striking out the paragraph, a portion of which refers to certain popular amusements. These include dancing, card playing, theatergoing and attendance at circuses and horse races. He said:

"Such prohibition is not merely contrary to the spirit of the times, as is often claimed, but it is not enforced, and it cannot be enforced. More than that, it never has been enforced in the history of the church. This portion of the paragraph was never in the Book of Discipline at all until 1872.

Herr Bebel returned to his attack upon Russia, speaking of the alleged atroctites perpetrated in that country. He then answered Chancellor Von Buslow's speech of last Thursday. He declared that the Chancellor went too far in discussing foreign axairs which he referred in terms of sharp criticism to the United States government and Congress regarding the American policy in the Philippines. He further repelled Count Von Buslow's assertion that the Socialists had greater advantages in Germany than they have in republican countries and said:

"The difference is that in republics many civil rights exist which we in Germany must long wait for. Our laws of association and assemblage and our freedom of the press cannot be compared with republican liberties."

Count Von Buslow answered Herr Bebel's relterated criticisms of the government's policy in East Asia, saying: "Our programme there is simple. We want to retain and to develop what we hold, but not to burn our fingers in matters which do not concern us."

Replying to Herr Bebel's assertion that government officials are not free since they cannot be Socialists, the Chancellor said that "the Social Democracy, despite Herr Bebel's rather lame explanation, professes republicanism. The government official whis works for the Social Democracy breaks his oath and we will not tolerate such an official." HERR BEREL TURNS HIS TONGUE

Great Northern Securities Case on Its Final Trial.

George B. Young Makes an Able Defense of Combination.

Attorney-General Knox Files a Brief and Argues Orally.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Suprems Court today began hearing arguments in the case of the Northern Securities Company, James J. Hill, J. Pierpont Morgan, Daniel S. Lamont and others against the United States, coming to this court on appeal from the decision of the Circuit Court for the district of Minnesota. That decision was to the effect that the purchase of the greater share of the stock of the two railroad companies constituted a secret and was contrary to the Sher-courtroom was crowded. Atty. The courtroom was crowded. Atty-Gen. Knox was present, with quite an array of assistants from his office, while the opposition also was repre-sented by a long list of distinguished counsel, including former Atty.-Gen. Griggs, John G. Johnson of Philadel-phis, C. W. Bunn and Charles B.

phis. C. W. Bunn Foung.
John G. Johnson, representing the Northern Securities Company, made the first argument. He argued in favor of six propositions, which he outlined as

The first is that there was no agreement, contract, combination or conspiracy to restrain competition between these two railroad companies or to restrain trade. But, on the contrary, whatever contract or understanding there was in the case, as established by uncontradicted testimony, was to enlarge, create and to in every way possible improve trade and commerce. The second proposition is that if two railway companies, somewhat in competition with themselves, decide it necessary, in order to sustain their competition against a third company which otherwise could destroy them or greatly interfere with their usefulness to the public, to combine in any way for the purpose of protecting themselves against destruction and in order, by means of that protection, to make a greater competition with a greater rival, or a greater scale for their advantage and for the public, the court must look to the matter as one of fact to determine whether the real purpose was to destroy or to lead to the destruction in order to promote trade by the establishment of the greater competition.

The third proposition is that if the titutional. Johnson admitted that if there had been an agreement to restrain interstate commerce, that would have constituted a direct violation of the Interstate Commerce Law, and also conceded that it was immaterial what the intent had been. In closing, he said: "You may strike down this corporation, and you undoubtedly will strike it down it you find that its expirators it in violation. you undoubtedly will strike it down it was the stock of both compation of the law. But I respectfully submit that you sak of the Attorney-General when he demands that you strike it down, the presentation to you of some law that clearly and unmistakes that clearly and unmistakes the stock of both compatition in the stock of stock of the stock of t adown, the presentation to you of some law that clearly and unmistakably pronounces a crime that which he asks you to condemn."

Johnson was followed by C. W. Bunn, who spoke especially for the Northern Pacific. He confined his discussion largely to the decision of the Circuit Court in the case. Like Johnson, he conceded that the Sherman Act covers all combines in restraint of trade. He contended, however, that some latitude must be allowed in defining what is a restraint of trade, and he said it was rather startling to apply the law to and make criminal the consolidation of Iwo lines of railroad like the Great Northern securities Company. He contended that Congress had no control over the transfer of stock.

had been it would not be in restraint of trade.

Bunn was followed by Atty.-Gen. Knox for the United States. In beginning Mr. Knox outlined the attitude of the government toward the case, saying that it was one of grave concern based on its conviction that a mischievous evasion of the law had been attempted as well as upon its special interest and relations to one of the properties affected. In order that the court might understand the reasons for this concern, he reviewed the principal facts connected with the organization, and subsequent history of the Northeri Pacific Company, its relations to the Great Northern and other facts out of which the questions in this case arise, but without extended comment. Upon this statement the Attorney-General based the following propositions:

First—That the arrangement affected by defendants is a combination in restraint of interstate commerce, and is illegal under the first section of the Act of July 2, 1890 (the Sherman Antitrust Law.)

ary and other purposes. The Attorney-General then gave The Attorney-General then gave a detailed account of the attempt to secure control of the Northern Pacific road, as shown in the case of Pearsall vs. the Great Northern road. Morgan, he said, knew of this attempt, sympathized with it, and assured Hill that if he failed, they could work the two railroads in harmony. Continuing, Mr. Knox said:

roads in harmony. Continuing, Mr. Knox said:

"Let us next see what steps were taken to get the Northern Pacific property in such situation as would enable Mr. Morgan to make good his assurance to Mr. Hill, that if he failed to acquire the Northern Pacific stock in the manner just described they could work in harmony. A reorganization of the road was expected, and a new company, organized under the laws of Wisconsin with power to do so, took over the property and franchises of the Northern Pacific Company.

"By the reorganizing agreement, J. P. Morgan & Co. were made 'manager' of the reorganization. What is known as harmony' now prevailed between the two roads and continued as such until 1901, when the two roads made a joint purchase of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. This partnership in the ownership of the Burlington was almost ingmediately followed by the merger of which the government complains."

The Attorney-General then detailed merger of which the government complains."

The Attorney-General then detailed the facts connected with the Burlington purchase and the organization of the Securities Company, and in concluding his presentation of the evolution of the Securities Company said:
"These facts clearly establish that it is an instrumentality created to control the Northern Pacific and Great Northern roads and through their ownership of the Burlington to control that road likewise."

The Attorney-General was able be-fore adjournment to amounce only one proposition, and that was contained in the following sentence: "This merger of interests was a combination in restraint of commerce among States, and was intended so to be, and with or without a proven intention it is illegal, as by virtue of the combination it is guilty of the mischief which the law is designed to prevent, namely, it brings transportation trade throughout the vast section of country under the controlling influence of a single body and destroys any possible advantage the public might have through any competition between the two lines." The court adjourned until tomorrow, when Mr. Knox will continue.

suppened Court today. The document was prepared by Atty.-Gen. Knox and Assistant Attorney-General Day, and covers 180 printed pages.

After stating that the bill in the case was originally brought by the government to restrain the violation of the anti-trust law by the Securities Company in the consolidation of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads and that the decision of the court below was favorable to the contentions of the United States, the brie enters into the following specifications as to the reasons for the action:

First—The lines of railway operated by the defendants, the Great Northern Pacific Railway Company, are parallel and competing.

Second—That the combination is in restraint of interstate commerce and a monopoly.

"At the present time, the Securities Company is the owner of about 96 per cent. of all the stock of the Northern Pacific Railway Company and the owner of about 76 per cent. of all the stock of the Great Northern Railway Company. The scheme which was thus devised and consummated led inevitably to the following results:

"First, it placed the control of the two roads in the hands of a single person, to-wit: The Securities Company by virtue of its ownership of a large majority of the stock of both companies.

The Attorney-General's own summary of the results is as follows:

Third—That the court has the power to prevent, restrain or otherwise prohibit it.

Further reviewing the history of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, he said it was chartered under the provisions of an act of Congress approved July 2, 1894. The corporation was authorized to construct a railroad which "shall be a post route and military road, subject to the United States for postal, military, naval and all other government services."

He remarked in passing that when the United States created the Northern Pacific Company and authorized it to construct a railroad and for that prose endowed it with 43,000,000 acres of the subscience of the public doman, it was to secure to

ROYALTY AS MORALCENSORS

Prince and Princess of Wales Top Off Names of Proposed Carnival Guests.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) LONDON, Dec. 14.- IBy Atlantic Cable.) Court and society circles are startled by the fact that the Prince and Princess of Wales are assuming the position of moral censors in connection with the ice carnival shortly to be given for the benefit of the Union Jack Club. This is supposed to indicate that the reign of King Edward's immediate successor will be markedly puritanical. Private soldiers and seamen exposed to the temptations of London will be furnished with comfortable quarters in the new club. The promoters have raised $150,000, and want $350,-000 more. They are organizing banquet, where the rich and brilliant can assemble, enjoy festivities and spend money When the Prince and Princess were asked to attend, they asked to be supplied with a list of proposed guests, which they returned minus the names of many persons moving in the highest circles. Inquiry dis-closed the fact that the exclusions have been made on moral grounds. Royalty has often exercised similar censorship in the past, but invariably for the Wishing, however, does not alter facts. Mr. Roosevelt and, his party are inseparable. Every Republican of Presidential size has already declared Presidential size has already declared for him, whether they love or fear, whether for policy or principle, and every such Republican is bound to him and bound up with him. Those who think that he can be headed off or 'thrown down' by Republicans give to their calculations more of relation to cunning than to consistency.

"The next President of the United States will be Theodore Roosevelt or a Democrat. The Democrat to be nominated for that office should be one who can unite his party, who can attract the support of disastisfied Republicans, who can arouse the hope of independent men and who can reassure the general body of citizens

The sallors seemed inclined to obey with-out any trouble, but, according to Woods and one or two witnesses, E. L. Opple of Summerland, who was standing by, urged the men to "do standing by, urged the men to "do up the cop" and he would pay the fine. This was enough for the half-shot tars and one of them made h pass at Woods and was promptly clubbed. The others piled in and in a minute the officer was down and the men started to kick him in the face, urged on to greater brutality by Opple. Woods's cries for help brought a couple of other officers to his assistance, and the sallors took to their heels and escaped. Opple stood his ground and was placed under arrest. This morning a complaint charging him with battery was placed against him by Woods and his bonds fixed at 3500. Woods suffered frightfully from the brutal kicking and is in bad shape.

CHRISTMAS GIVING.

It is a subject of common remark that never before has so much shopping for Christmas gifts been done in Los Angeles, so long before Christmas Day, as is being done this year. The throngs upon the streets and in the stores is a convincing indication that the people of this city are enjoying a liberal amount of prosperity. Finanit, is likely to make itself most mansonal treasury is for the benefit others. This of course is not creditable to human nature; but the been attained even in Christian acteristic of the degenerate trades-unionism of today. The

It is gratifying, however, to see such evidences of material prosperity, and the practice of giving which it stimulates, if properly directed, is one worthy of commendation and encodragement. The qualification as to proper direction deserves to be emphasized. There is much to be learned by a great many people about proper giving. To a friend who is deserving of a gift its cash value is not its significant feature. The man or woman who stops to guess at the cost of the gift sent him or her, is The city of Los Angeles, thanks to the intelligence, the foresight, and the American spirit of its citizens, is placed upon tokens of friendship which are passed at Christmas time that often makes the season one of burden, when it should be one of pleasure. It constitutes an obstacle in the way of the best development of friendship between those of different degrees of worldly wealth. The poorer man feels humiliation and em-barrassment because he cannot give, or feels that it is a burden to give, as liberally to his friend as his friend gives to him, and the wealthier man may, if he have delicate sensibilities, feel constrained to give less liberally than he would gladly do were it not for the fear of making his friend feel the burden of obligation.

What then is the principle that underlies proper giving? It is undoubtedly the manifestation of a feeling of friendship, but, as we have said, real friendship is not measured in dollars and cents. It is the thought, to a friend that constitutes its real not a reward. This understood, there need be no sense of burden, no feel-ing of embarrassment, and the rich happy both in the giving and in the

Associated with the giving of tokens of friendship at Christmas time is the very commendable custom of giving for the benefit of the poor, of those who have few or none of the luxuries of life and are, perhaps, overburdened in obtaining its necesobtains. Here the token of kindly feeling may be permitted to draw upon the purse strings, and take the form of substantial consideration.

And it is the undoubted duty of every person at this time to share his prosperity in some degree with the needy. Poverty becomes more poignant to its victims at such times as this, when luxury especially displays itself

Therefore, and in conclusion, your liberality be shown in your gifts to the needy, but let the underlying purpose of your presents to friends be the expression of love, not the donation of money, or its equivalent in any form.

THE PIE QUESTION. A new danger confronts the country in the form of a slump in the quality of pie furnished to our statesmen at Washington. To what extent we are indebted to pie for our manifold blessings it is difficult to de-termine offhand, but that the influence of right good pie on legislation, morals and politics is great slet no iconoclastic variet presume to question. Eminent authority has declared that bread is the staff of life, but not banks on nie, but the nie must be juicy, toothsome, flaky as to crust, thick as to vertical dimensions and cut in sharp-pointed pieces in order to fill the American citizen adequately and comfortably. If upon the heels of grafting in the Pestoffice Department at Washington, in the New York and other trades unions, in Grand Rapids, St. Louis and all along shore, there shall come a continuous demoralization in the quality of American ple guise the fact that this country is loubtless, as goes the pie of Washington, so goes the pie of the re-mainder of the nation. At this critical moment and thus early in the developments at the national capital The Times speaks up in meeting and demands a Congressional investigation of the pie question. Let us have committee on ple, with power to send for persons, papers and ingredients to the end that all the facts shall be brought out and the incompetent and guilty pie-builders who are debauching our Representatives made to pay the penalty. The men who make the laws of the nation must be safe-guarded from heartburn and rendered immune from dyspepsia caused by soggy pie, no matter what the cost. nessed the return of "Are You a Ma-son?" last night, and enjoyed an even-ing of the uproarious fun with which that well known farce is replete. Leaving out a few objectionable features that well known farce is replete. Leaving out a few objectionable features which really do not seem necessary to the piece and which consist of a species of inexcusable vulgarity, there is a lot of wit in the play, and the company now here neglect no opportunity to bring it all out. There are asymmatively clever people in the cast, and there are none who are without more or less merit. Thomas V. Emofy as the young architect, is a man of parts, indeed, and his female impersonations are a sure cure for the worst case of blues in existence. Edward Kellie (and that's a new way to spell the fine old Hibernian patronymic,) makes good as Amos Bloodgood, the old sport who hides his bent for mischlef/behind his spurious Grand Master's imaginary office. The women of the company agail vivacious, clever and attractive. Whether one is a Mason or not there's fun enough in this skit to fully satisfy the demands. The piece will be on again tomorrow and Wednesday nights.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. James Keane selected a hard task for himself in the presentation of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," which he is playing at the Grand this week. The story is one of Stevenson's freak psychological studies, familiar to almost every novel reader. The characters, merged in the complex double mentality of one human being, are as different as light and darkness, and the accurate portrayal of the transformation from the proper Dr. Jekyll to the horrible Hyde is a task that takes the abilities of a Mansfield—who has attempted it with all the seriousness of his art.

Mr. Keane's version of the story is rather a grewsome one, and the plot, save where it relates directly to the Jekyll-Hyde personality, is utterly inconsequential. There is a love story mixed up with it. The "Alice" of the play is interpreted by Miss Alice Entamann.

Keane's chief faults is that of de-

Poor Adora Andrews has been up against fate in every production since the company's return. She is supposed to play an adventuress this week, but even a cigarette will not make her small, innocent person convincingly wicked. Jane Templeman, who plays Muriel, Countess of Desborough, is also unfortunately placed. If there were a "fat, fair and forty" person to take the role of the Sporting Duchess, one believes that Miss Kembie's strong individuality would shine in the heavier scenes, in which Miss Templeman is quite inefficient. She should be given credit for a heroic endeavor.

ORPHEUM. The theatrical audience ORPHEUM. The theatrical audience, especially the rather blase, first-night type, is always looking for the unique. When it finds it, there is usually a lavishness of applause and a great plentitude of encores. In this way the Orpheum audience last night "took" to Joe Newman, Denver poet, by the grace of heaven a plain, pleasing, homely fellow. Newman is the typical "newspaper poet" of the older days—something of the 'Gene Field type, and his little verses are both gay and melancholy, trivial and of serious import. Then—apparently the only thing that ever made it possible for Newman to dislocate himself behind the footlights—he can sing some. Not that he has a cate nimself benind the footlights—he can sing some. Not that he has a voice. Oh, no; but instructors maintain that if you know how to sing a voice is not essential, after all. A Woman's Suggestion.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—(To the Editor of The Times:) In pursuance of the theme vs. smoking in the street cars, I have read with interest the letters from the various ones on the subject, and think there is a simple solution to the problem.

Men smoke and probably always will, and while it is very obnoxious to me, particularly indoors, and I know it affects many people unpleadantly to even sit on the outside of the car and be compelled to inhale the fumes. Why not allow the smoker's the front end of the car? The front door is always closed, and the smoke cannot enter the car as it does from the rear. I have ridden inside many times when the wind blew so much smoke into the car that one had better have been sitting beside the smoker out of doors. This is the opinion of city at $150 an acre, but the board occlined to consider the proposition. The facts are that Butterfield has the land, but can make no use of it. The city has corralled the water under his land, by authority of the State law, and he cannot pump water to make the soil productive. It is fit only for pasture land, but the Health Office will not permit him to put cattle on his own ground. Butterfield says that ducks might be profitably raised on the land, through which a city water ditch flows, but the authorities forbid this because the ducks would contaminate the water. Really it looks as if Butterfield has a grievance.

Mrs. P. M. Scott sent a letter this time. She told the board that under an old contract with the Citizens' Water Company she is entitled to water for her land, and intimated that she is going to have it or know the reason why. The question was passed up to the president, Fay, he to confer with the City Attorney as to the rights of the city in the matter.

NO MORE "SYNDICATE" BETTING JOCKEY CLUBS IN HARMONY.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Thomas Williams and Vice-President Adam Andrew of new California Jockey Club returned home today. As there has been considerable conjecture in regard to their visit and the harmony now existing between the California Jockey Club and the Ascot Park Association, President Williams gave out the fell. President Williams gave out the fol-

President Williams gave out the following statement for publication:
"Last May the Pacific Jockey Club was formed, to have jurisdiction over racing this side of the Rocky Mountains. President Epes Randolph has been ill and for that reason went to Arizona some time ago. John A. Muir, vice-president, intended some two weeks ago to come to San Francisco to confer with members of the Pacific Jockey Club, but he, also, was suddenly taken ill. W. E. Dune, director of the Los Angeles Jockey Club, teleof the Los Angeles Jockey Club, telewith Andrew and myself and then, upon his invitation, we visited Los Angeles. The result of our visit was the election of John A. Muir and W. E. Dunne as members of the Pacific Jockey Club. The Ascot Park, the Seattle Racing Association and the new California Jockey Club are now under the jurisdiction and racing under the rules of the Pacific Jockey Club."

This means that "syndicate" betting has received a quietus at both Los Angeles and Seattle. The latter town promised to be one of the best racing points in the West, but the grasping and "get-rich-quick" policy of the management. queered the town with everyone except the sure-thing gamblers.

BICYCLE PRIZE WINNERS EVERY RIDER GOT A BONUS. NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The prize-winners in the six-day bleycle race were paid off tosix-day bleycle race were paid off to-day. The winners of prizes and the amounts paid them are as follows: First, Waithour and Munroe, $1500; second. Leander and Butler, $1000; third. Floyd Krebs and Peterson, $750; fourth, Fisher and Howler, $500; fifth, Newkirk and Jacobson, $350; seventh, Bedell Brothers, $100; tighth, Mo, an and Keegan, $10. "In addition to the $5000 paid to the prise-winners," said P. T. Powers, "we have baid out at least $15,000. Every man that rode in the race for any distance received a bonus for his work, based on the time he was on the track."

SCHREIBER'S HORSES HERE.

Carload of Youngsters Comes from Track is Fit to Race Upon Week Before Opening.

A horse Pullman rolled into Ver-non station on the Santa Fé yester-day and was sidetracked across from Col. Frank Black's place of business, and there immediately began about the most trying work that an owner of the bangtails ever has to do-the un-the bangtalls ever has to do—the un-loading of thoroughbreds.

Horses differ greatly in their views regarding cars, some taking to them kindly and others remonstrating to the limit of their equine ability by buck-ing, biting and rearing, sometimes ab-solutely refusing to budge a step. Get-ting them into a car is hard, but get-ting them out mobile is effect hards. ting them out unhurt is often harder, and some of Barney Schreiber's year-lings which arrived about noon succeeded in "bunging up" considerably.

There were sixteen horses in the car, including old Schwartzwald, a black son of Night; a full sister to the good bread winner Otis; one veteran jumper for the steeplechases, and a number of likely looking colts by Imp. Sain, Foul Shot and other more or less favored members of the Woodland stud. Schreiber has gone into the racehorse business upon an extremely extensive business upon an extremely extensive business upon an extremely extensive scale, having over one hundred and fifty brood mares on his big stock farm, and the youngsters which arrived yesterday are the smallest part of his colts, though among them are some upon which Mr. Schreiber sets much faith.

As an example of the systematic way in which racing is conducted as a business, the converted baggage car which conveyed the Schreiber horses here is of considerable interest. An ordinary Arms palace-horse car is good enough, but Mr. Schreiber is almost a "crank" upon giving his gallopers every possible luxury that can delight an equine, from clean wheat straw to a warm oat and bran mash every night. So, using an ordinary baggage car as a foundation, his artisans have perfected a roomy sort of traveling barn to which the animals take quite kindly. As a business proposition it keeps them from worrying so much over their surroundings and enables them to reach business proposition it keeps them from worrying so much over their sur-roundings and enables them to reach their destination in a better frame of roundings and enables them to reach their destination in a better frame of mind.

Trainer Dick Williams is in charge of Schreiber's horses, and they were assigned the west side of the stables occupied by Boots Durnell's favorites.

Barney Schreiber will have two or three books on at the Ascot meeting for a certainty as his men yesterday brought down the tickets and other paraphernalia used in the betting business. Barney has three books on up North. His horses which arrived yesterday left Ingleside Sunday night just in time to give their stalls to the others of the Schreiber stables which came over from Oakland. The bulk of his horses probably will not come here this winter, and it is possible Mr. Schreiber himself will not, as he has been a very busy man. The best horses now running in his colors will probably be seen at Ascot Park before the ninety-day meeting is over, and it is a safe wager that the genial German will be unable to resist for long the mild magnetism of Southern California's perpetual sunshine after the almost continuous rain and fog of the North.

Horsemen now at Ascot Park, and particularly the late arrivals, unite in prophesying that there will be a big influx of bangtalis just after the lingleside meeting which lasts fifteen days only, after which the scenes of racing again shift to Oakland. Many found it inconvenient to move at instructions and the prophesyling that there will be a big influx of bangtalis just after the lingleside meeting which lasts fifteen days only, after which the scenes of racing again shift to Oakland. Many found it inconvenient to move at instruction of the bange to part with the scenes of racing again shift to Oakland. Many found it inconvenient to move at instruction of the scene and light sinkers low-

"Ascot Park will be ready to run upon a week sooner than the date officially set, if need be, "declared Contractor A. M. Allen yesterday at the new track. "I can see no excuse for these reports that we would not be ready, unless someone was trying to keep horsemen from coming to Los Angeles. The track itself is now in excellent shape; the horsemen all like it. The stand is practically done; the fences are up, and all that remains is the judges' and timers' stands, two days' work laying flooring and the putting up of a fence in front of the buildings. A good soaking rain would help lay much of the dust and would help lay much of the Stall to the receive of the seem of th

The big plant now looks every inch a racetrack. Schreiber's caretakers we re delighted with it, and agreed that. Ascot was the finest looking course they had yet visited. "Any owner that wouldn't be satisfied here would kick on heaven itself," was the way one of the old-timers put it.

In front of the big steel grand stand a cement walk slopes down to the track. The buildings are all cement-connected. The lower floor of the stand is yet to be laid, but a day or two at the outside will do that part of the work. The waterworks tank is being installed. All rollers are keeping off the course now. Around the stables on the east side of the course here much grading has been done a good shower would do good by settling the earth, and it would also lay several tons of needless dust along the Central-avenue car line which looks as if water had never yet touched it.

Arthur Redfern's valet arrived at Ascot Park yesterday and the premier featherweight jockey may be expected today, tomorrow or any old time. Wnether Pa Redfern will make Los Angeles the scene of his operations this winter remains to be seen. He was a great nuisance to the paddock officials at New Orleans last winter, gaining admittance thereto as he is his son's manager, and according to the Crescent City clerk a very dictatorial one. Little Redfern expects to cover himself with glory this winter. he will be here through the entire meeting, and riding the best horses at the track. A number of horsemen are following Charlie Duragil's example and are ity-ing at the new race track. Plenty of fresh air, good water and sunshine make it very desirable. Several substantial little houses have been erecided along the eastern boundary.

U.S.C. ATHLETIC REPORT. The Athletic Committee of the University of Southern California met yesterday afternoon to make final arrange-showed a surplus in the treasury after all expenses are paid. This was specially noteworthy in view of the fact that the U.S.C.-Pomona game was not played. The management during other seasons has depended on this game to cover all expenses. All possibility of a game between the two colleges is past, as the U.S.C. team will play only one other game this season, that with the San Diego Athletic Club in San Diego on Christmas Day.

Patience had its reward Sunday at Brighton Beach. After putting in Sun-day after Sunday at that resort, some-times catching a small mess of fish and more often going home almost empty-handed, the inveterates had a midwin-ter field day, and all came home with fair sacks of surf last night. The fish averaged just over a pound in weight, and they were there literally by the hundred.

Glendale Beet-sugar Factory May be Abandoned—Arizona News.

IMPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES. PHOENIX (Ariz.) Dec. 13.-Although

a Statehood Bill has been introduced by J. F. Wilson, Arizona's Delegate to Congress, much less interest than ever before appears to be taken this winter in the Statehood movement. The main interest is in the proposition to join Arizona with New Mexico, a scheme bitterly opposed by almost every intelligent voter of Arizona. Col. Wilson has written his impression concerning the progress of the Statehood agitation in Arizona in a letter to a prominent Southern Arizona attorney. He says: "As to your inquiry concerning the Statehood matter, I can only say that so far as votes are concerned, we certainly have a sufficient number in both Houses to pass the bill at any hour; but, as to what manipulations will be effected as to the bill during its progress in committee and otherwise, it is impossible to say. But for delays the opposition is now maneuvering, I feel ure that I have the union of the two Territories completely blocked. I feel positive that that sort of a bill cannot pass, and even the President concedes this, as I am informed. However, this is a piece of tactics that I must watch closer than anything else."

The Arizona World's Fair Commission is now putting in full time in its work of preparation for the Territory's and now applinances have been called upon in all the counties of the Territory, and now applinances have been made of the employeds at St. Louis. They include: In charge of the mining industry exhibit, Ernest Ford of Phoenix; horticultural exhibit, of Prosent. Particular stress it to be put upon the mineral exhibit, with which is to be shown a geological map of the Territory, now being prepared by Prof. William P. SUGAR FACTORY TROUBLES.

Work has been at a standstill for several weeks on the beet sugar factory, near Glendale. The iron framework is up but nothing else has been done save to make a few contracts for the planting of beets. It is understood that the operating company is waiting for the action of Congress on the Cuban reciprocity measure, presumably with the intention of abandoning the scheme, for a while at least, if Cuban sugar is admitted free of duty. The slump in the stock market has militated against the sale of bonds in New York. Forty-five thousand dollars, in coin and in land, has been donated as a bonus by the people of the Sali River Valley, contingent upon the operation of the new enterprise next summer. It is now believed that it will be impossible for the company to carry out the terms of its contract.

Large shipments of oranges, mainly mavels, are being made from Phoenix and Mesa to Chicago and New York. The oranges have ripened well and the crop is the heaviest ever known in the valley. His wife fears he has met with foul play, although the officers have been unable to find any evidence to support that theory. He had an important contract on Passdena avenue, and employed a number of men. Saturday forenoon he drew between $300 and $400 from the Southwestern National Bank at Second and Broadway, and stated to a relative southwestern National Bank at Second and Broadway, and stated to a relative that he was going to take a Garvansa car at Second and Main streets to pay his men. Since that time no person who knows him has seen him, or at least they have not reported the matter to either his relatives or the officers. Investigation by the detectives to whom the disappearance was reported, shows that Bickles did not go to Pasadena avenue, and did not pay the men in his employ, but the officers have been unable to ascertain where he went for where he now is. When the matter was first reported the request was supposed Bickles would return home by Monday, but when he did not come yesterday, the officers were requested to make the matter public.

Those who have been investigating the case are not yet prepared to accept the foul play theory, although the possession of that amount of money would be sufficient to induce thieves to waylay him. Mrs. Bangs at the County Farm said yesterday that all she had done that could be possibly construed as an offense was to leave the grounds once without permission. She claimed that Graham had chopped her head off to make a place for another of his friends. As so many others have gone the same way ere this, it is doubtless true. All of this is due, not to a meretrucious state of mind in Supervisor Graham, but to a most laughable state of affairs on the Board of Supervisors which enables Graham to have the buige always.

There are four members of the board. Alexander and Longdon are always on one side of every question and Wilson and Patterson, from principle, take the other; this is invariable. Graham came onto the board when this state of things was already in existence. Canny man! He took advantage of the split and arrayed himself with neither, but dangled between.

It is plain to see that nobody cares much about that diggings but Graham. He has to be propitiated if his favor is to be gained. Graham is blessed with many clamorous friends. He has stuck 'em in everywhere.

Consolidated California People Reported to Have Torn up Railroad's Grading Across Forty Acres-Trouble Over Right of Way of Conflicting Interests.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 14.—(Exclusiv Dispatch.] A clash has occurred at Sunset between the forces of the Con-solidated California Oli Fields Com-pany and the Santa Fé Railroad Company and the Santa Fé Railroad Company, over rights of way. Parties arriving in the city report that the oil company hired a number of teams and drivers, paying, it is said, is a day in order to get men at once, and tore up the railroad's grading across a tract of forty acres north of the Alameda property. After doing this a vacant house was moved onto the right of way and guards placed in it to keep the railroad company's laborers fromworking.

the railroad company's laborers from-working.

From what can be learned, the im-mediate cause of the trouble is that the Consolidated Oil Fields Company demands a right of way for its pipe line across the same property, and is willing to allow the Santa Fé to cross the land, which belongs to one of its affiliated companies, only on condition that it is given certain privileges in this regard. The trouble is said to have been brewing for some time, in fact, ever since the Santa Fé commenced, been brewing for some time, in fact, ever since the Santa Fé commenced building its extension, which comes into direct competition with the pipe line which is being constructed by the Consolidated California Oil Fields Company, the big corporation promoted by Jewett & Biodget of this city, and backed by French capital.

It is thought that the trouble will be adjusted, but tonight there is no change in the situation and armed men are guarding the property and keeping the railroad forces at bay.

A damage suit involving $100,000 has been started at Wallace, Idaho, against the Bunker Fill and Sullivan Mining Company, owned by D. O. Mills, by James L. Safford, who, with J. B. McKenzie, took a contract wherehy they were to work the various stroying the equipment they had built. Safford claims that during the life of the contract, if not interfered with, they could have made a profit of $100,-000. While working dumps which contain large quantities of silver-lead ores, they shipped $0,000 pounds of concentrates, which netted over $800. McKenzie assigned his interest to Safford.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Chief Elton received a letter yester-day from Dr. A. J. Berry of Colorado springs, Colo., asking that an effort be made to find M. Berry, an employé of the Globe Oil Company, whose last known address was No. 342 North Main street, this city, and who at one time was employed at Bakersfield. The let-ter states that the man is wanted in order that he may receive his portion of a large fortune to which he has fallen heir through the death of a rela-tive.

Artist Arrested for Theft.

Thomas Nash, an artist, was arrested gesterday for theft in Hoogee's store on Main street near Second. Patrolman W. B. Craig caught Nash stealing a fine tarpon line, valued at 32. He was arrested, admitted his guilt and begged that the matter be dropped because he said that if it became public his reputation would be ruined. He was taken to the Police Court and given until tomorrow in which to placeb. Nash was once accused of stealing several small articles from the Tutts-Lyon Arms Company, but was not prosecuted. He lives in Santa Monica and has painted portraits of several frominent citizens of this city and other places.

Nearly Killed by a Train.

Rearly Killed by a Train.

How Mitchell, an employé of the Sentous Packing Company, had a narrow escape from death last night at the Ninth-street crossing of the Santa Fé Railroad tracks hear the Ninth-street bridge. He was driving a double team and while crossing the tracks, a north-bound passenger train from Santa Amarashed into his wagon. One horse was badly injured and had to be killed. Mitchell was burled a distance of twenty feet and seriously hurt, and the wagon was smashed to splinters. The injured man was taken to the Receiving Hospital. His scalp was laid open for several linches and he was suffering from concussion of the brain. He will be taken to the Sisters' Hospital today.

Bold Trunk Thief Captured.

Roy Scasighini, aged 19, a former insimate of the State reform school at Whittier, now out on parole, was arrested last evening by Detective Ritch on a charge of grand larceny. He was employed in the baggage-room of the Arcade depot. He took a fine trunk from the baggage-room, removed the check and sent it to his room at No. 42 Central avenue. After 'rifing it and crasing the name of the owner he put his own name upon it, sent it to the depot and had it checked through to Hanford, to which place he had intended going last night. The owner of the trunk reported the loss and when Scasighini brought the trunk back to the depot it was recognized. It was checked as directed and he returned to his room, where an officer found him. He was heavily armed and when Scasighini may either be sent back to Whittier or to the penitentiary.

But it h a ladies' institution completely, and the colonel's efforts to drive it out of business have been unavailing. He has steadfastly refused to let women enter the "klosk," and, not to be denied, they have installed themselves in the waiting-room of the railroad station across the track, foreing their husbands to act as messengers and betting commissioners. The colonel says they are considerably ahead of him on the gamé, but he is not sore on that account; whatever can be said against the "old man," as he is known in sporting circles, he is a "game loser."

Yesterday he was sitting out in front of the place taking the air for a brief spell; Black has been a very sick man and confined to his bed for nearly a month, being able now to get out only a little while every day. When a newspaper man hove in sight the colonel

Local Musicians Set Back Fires to Roast Out Italians.

Manager of "Royal Los Angeles" Says It's Infamous.

H AVING no further need of the girl who married him to save his neck from the gallows, "Doc" Crandall has brought suit for divorce. His attorneys filed the suit yesterday.

The wife from whom he seeks separation is more or less a public character. She is known, where the lights of the town burn, as Amanda Fawiss.

Her marriage to Frank Crandall was one of those strange freaks of self-sucrifice that sporting women are given to, and was, at the time, a mine days sensation.

Crandall was a fast young man who couldn't work because he was sick, and ran with swift crowds. He killed a man and Amanda Fawiss was eye witness to the killing.

It happened at what is now Playadel Rey, but was then Ballona Beach. No one lived there but a fisheman named Joe, who had a shack which Crandall and some other young sports rented for a week. One Sunday the "girls" came down. Among these was Amanda Fawiss.

There was much beer, and, after imbibing, Crandall's feelings were hurt, and he went home to Los Angeles. The next day he went down looking for a trouble with Amanda—also looking for a more than a sunday and most unconventional morals.

to what Los Angeles players term the slight, is C. H. Porter, of the Catalina Island Marine Band. This organisation has really had more chance, as to numbers and higher salaried players, and has always been the especial pride of Los Angeles manerican citizens, neighbors, friends or relatives of the people to whom they play. It seems to me hardly just the thing to turn such a class down entirely in favor of a bunch, few of whom can speak a word of the English language. I believe these men do not propose to stay here—they only intend to get money enough to carry them back to Italy.

"Mr. Ellery, as I understand, on good authority, is merely placing this band in Los Angeles as a big commercial venture—there is no interest for Los Angeles at the hearts of any of them We have stood by the city, we have our homes and our interests here, and when the time came for a large band, to represent the city as a whole, we had expected the people to stand by us."

ELLERY'S REJOINDER.

And Ellery says, in reply to all this: "I have known of this sentiment among Los Angeles music-makers for some large warming a sell-due young man, wearing a full beard to remark the compression of refinement's warming a well-due young man, wearing a full beard to be gin his sermon, without moment's warming a well-due young man, wearing a full beard with every appearance of refinements."

Brewer were arrested yesterday afternoon at Thirty-third street and Gritfith avenue by Patrolman Moore for discharging firearms within the city limits. The prisoners, who are all boys, were amusing themselves shooting at various objects with a small rife. They had a large quantity of carridges. When they were taken to the Police Station their gun was recognised as answering the description of one stolen the night before.

Some time Sunday, night the hardware store of Despar & Sons, No. 280 South Main street, was entered by burglars and several small rifles and a large quantity of ammunition for various styles of guns were stolen. When the boys were brought in one of the members of the Despar firm was sent for and identified the gun. The boys as they found the gun and ammunition.

FIRST FIGHT ALONG THE TROLLEY LINES.

Since the advent of the Los Angeles Examiner its agitators have openly asserted that the first campaign of the paper will be waged against the street railroads and the claim has been made that they will unionize the entire Huntington system within the next six months.

The work of spreading discontent among railroad employes has already been started, the lines to Pasadera being the field of operations. Glowing promises of control of the situation are made and it is understood that a few motormen and conductors who have partaken of this sintoxicating syrup and who are agitating the union among their fellow-employes, have been warned by the managers. It is highly probable that some heads will fall within the next week.

"These women betting? Why, my dear man, they can do that at the track every time they want to. And I'll be over there after this week. We close down here when the winter meet begins, for Fitz and I have the field book privilege, and will have other books on besides.

"Dammit. I knew those women were gins, for filts and I have the field book privilege, and will have other books on besides.

"Dammit, I knew those women were going to make me trouble. I told Myrick (he's the chief lieutenant) we'd better not take any money that we thought was coming from outside. I knew it was only a question of time when some damn reporter—Oh. Lord, what am I saying? Present company's always excepted you know—well as I was saying, it would be only a matter of time when some newspaper would learn that two or three women were betting on the races, and would raise h—I about it. All I ask of them is to leave me and my poor little business alone. Now, these women, there's only seven of them—they are mostly the wives of the racing men who live at the track, and good Lord if they want to bet, ain't they got a right? They're orderly enough about it, for sure.

"Yes, they're pretty well posted. In fact, they have won a little money. They don't bet big, but they're not pikers—I'll say that much for them. But I never countenanced their bettinghere at all: still we took their money, so I guess I can't say much about that, I knew they'd make trouble for me; nobody would have said anything about them at the race track. It's considered the thing for women to bet there"

But the Council does not propose to subject citizens to the dust nuisance for a long period. Todd brought the matter up at the morning session of the Council yesterday. He said the people on Also street were up in arms. Notsiger thought the City Attorney had secured plenty of evidence and that the Street Superintendent should be directed to begin sprinkling at once. McAleer said he would not countenance any action that would hurt the city's case. He said the people would be willing to suffer a little annoyance if the street-railway companies could be compelled to sprinkle the streets. In the end the resumption of street sprinkling was left in the hands of Councilmen Notsiger and McAleer of the Board of Public Works. It is probable that, with the possible exception of those portions of streets mentioned in the complaints, the sprinkling wagons will be put back on the tracks within a day or two.

There is a movement on foot that will certainly place the members of the Council on record. If they really intend to make the railway companies sprinkle the streets, or pay the cost of the work, they can do so. If they are playing to the gaileries and intend to back down at the proper moment, that, too, will become apparent. Teday the license on street cars is $55 a year. The section of the license ordinance reads as follows:

"For every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of operation engaged in the surface and the engaged in the business of operation engaged a neens of $5 a month on every drug store that sells ilquor; the second is modeled after the famous Pomona ordinance.

As yet the druggists' pelition asking that the saloon license be increased to $55 a month and other changes made in the liquor laws has not received the necessary number of names to invoke the initiative. The druggists are still confident of securing the signatures of as many voters as are needed, although their plan to present the petition on the same day that the "Pomona" ordinance came before the Council failed.

"The druggists have been very busy with Chaisumas trade," said Frank Wolfe, head of the druggists' organisation, last night. "The acquirement of signatures on the petitions has consequently lagged somewhat. But we will present the petition all in due time. We are working right along and expect to have the document before the Council in plenty of time."

Mr. Wolfe was inclined to believe that an ordinance imposing a license on drug stores that sell liquor only on prescription would not hold and in this he is backed by the opinions of excellent attorneys.

There is every prospect that the Committee on Legislation will change this ordinance and place a straight license of $5 a month on every store that sells drugs. It is understood that this move is favored by the Cliy Attorney's office.

The ordinance to which the druggists most seriously object prohibits the sale in any drug store of liquor except upon the prescription of a regularly licensed physician. The liquor must be soid for medicinal purposes. The prescription must show the date, the time of day, the person applying for the liquor and the name of the person for whom it is intended. It must be presented within twenty-four hours of the time issued and the druggists must indorse on it the date, time of day and quantity of liquor sold-time for any but regularly licensed physicians to issue prescriptions and by them only when the liquor is known to be a medical necessity.

partment was filed with the City Council yesterday. It is a very voluminous document and contains much readable matter as well as lengthy tables of a statistical and fiscal nature.

The Water Commission in its report gives a general review of the work of the year, while Superintendent William Mulholland takes up in detail the several improvements and additions that have been made to the plant under municipal control.

is ima Mulholland takes up in detail the several improvements and additions that have been made to the plant under municipal control.

The total receipts of the department for the year were $14,284.32, of which $565,671.36 was for water and the balance for service connections, rents and materials sold. The total expenditure for the year was $123,493,13, of which $556,732.06 was for construction, land, etc., $93,294.76 for operation and maintenance, and $35,294.26 for bonded indebtedness and interest thereon. At the end of the year there was a balance on hand of $22,295.06.

Of the most important work accomplished during the year the report mentions the 7,606,600-gallon pump at the Buena Vista pumping station, the high-gravity reservoir, the 38-inch main on Alarmeda street, the shaft and 1163 feet of inflitration tunnel. Special mention is made of certain new work now in course of construction, including the head works tunnel on the Pomeroy & Hooker land, of which 2000 feet has been completed; the main conduit leading therefrom which has progressed 15,000 feet, and which the board hopes to complete by April 1 next.

The policy of metering the supply to consumers, begun by the first Water Commission, has been continued with the result that the per capita consumption in 1903 was nearly 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. less than that of 1902, and 15 per cent. venienced by the location of the office of the collection department, and expresses the hope that, within a short time, a more central and suitable site may be found. The high efficiency inalintained by the water force is attributed, in a large measure, to the fostering influence of the civil service. After expressing appreciation of the courtesties extended by the Mayor and other city officials, the board says: "We feel that we must express our great satisfaction as to the general conduct of this business under Superintendent William Mulholland, to whose uniting energy, great ability as an engineer, and thorough business methods in the management of a large force, the success of municipal ownership of the waterworks is to be largely attributed." Forms of two ordinances designed to regulate the sale of liquor by drug stores were presented to the Council yesterday afternoon by the City Attorney. They were referred to the Comin the management of a large force, the success of municipal ownership of the waterworks is to be largely attributed."

In his subjoined report Superintendent Mutholiand says that the growth of the city of Los Angeles in the fiscal year just closed has in all probability no parallel in the history of any city of its size in the United States.

When the zgitation for the acquirement of the waterworks by the city first began, he says, one of the stock arguments of the advocates of the measure was that, notwithstanding the then decadent and inefficient condition of the plant, the revenue would be sufficient, not alone to maintain and operate it, but also to make permanent extensions and improvements to keep pace with the growth of the city, as well as meeting the interest and paying off the bonds as they fell due. To use the vernacular of the street, this arrangement is certainly a "pudding" for those owning the vast area of unimproved land throughout the city and who contribute nothing toward either the purchase price of the plant or its improvement. There is no doubt, however, that it was due to the strength of this implied promise that so large a vote, favorable to its purchase, was polled.

After nearly two years' possession, and sotwithstanding the phenomenal addition of fully 23 per cent. to our population in that time, as amply evidenced by the number of consumers added to the system, fequiring great enlargement and extension of the pipe mileage as well as addition to the reservoir and pumping capacity, we still continue to meet our obligations as they fall due and to diligently prosecute the larger work outlined in the plans submitted last year for the comprehensive and permanent improvement of the waterworks.

The flat rates have been reduced 10 per cent. and the meter rates 50 per cent. In the first year of the plant's possession by the city, and the rates are now the lowest of any of the large cities west of the Rocky Mountains. During the year 40.51 miles of mains ranging in size from four-inch to thir

SIMONS HAS SUSPICIONS.

Simons Brick Company really believes that his chief competitor for the big brick confract on the outfall hewer work intends to make bricks without straw, or he merely desires to "give him" a run for the money," it is certain that he has suspicions.

Yesterday afternoon Simons sat in the lobby and took a long took at each member of the Council. Apparently, he was making a mental calculation of his chances to secure the fat contract. Finally he filed a letter with the Minute Clerk which was fairly redolent of suspicions.

The communication stated that the samples of brick submitted with the bids had been twice tested by the City Brick and Coment Tester and that the tests had shown extremely variable results. Mr. Simons further requested that a further test be given the brick and that he be permitted to be present or have someone on hand to represent him.

Apparently Simons thought he was apt to get the worst of it in the tests and City Engineer Stafford resented the tone of the petition.

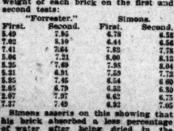

"I informed Attorney A. M. Cates, who represents Mr. Simons, a long time ago, that he or anyone representing him might be present at any test," said Stafford. "I also informed him that there would be another test of the samples before the contract was let."

Aithough Simons did not say so he evidently believes that his connection.

of the samples before the contract was let."

Although Simons did not say so he evideatly believes that his competitor for the vontract, "C. Forrester," tried to substitute water for steam in the brick samples. The absorption tests show that there might have been water in the "Forrester" brick, according to Simons. The first test of the brick sampless was made hurriedly because the Council was clamoring for a report. Later the bricks were dried in a kiln and again subjected to the absorption test. Simons declares his samples stood this test better than the "Forrester" brick. Here is the table showing the percentage of gain in weight of each brick on the first and second tests:

kiln, compared with what they absorbed on the first test, than did the sorbed on the first test, than did the "Forrester" brick.

Of course everybody who has followed the Council proceedings knows that "C. Forrester" stands for an association of young men led by Oscar Lawler, Leo Youngworth, Will Jeffries, Robert Wankowski, and championed by W. E. Durn, attorney for the Huntington or some one closely allied with him to furnish the money necessary to furnish the brick for the outfall sewer.

Approximately 20,000,000 brick will be used in the sewer and 5,000,000 in the construction of the storm drains. The Simons bid was $7 a thousand and the "Forrester" bid $6.40 a thousand the "Forrester" bid $6.40 a thousand. Under the Simons bid the orick would cost the city $15,000 and under the "Forrester" bid $6.60.000. Where such large sums of money are involved the rivairy is bound to be keen and in the present instance there have been charges of double-dealing made that threatened at one time to bring on a personal encounter between two of the interested parties.

Whether Simons can show the Council good reason to accept his bid remains to be seen. Meanwhile, he contents himself by saying that his competitors "will get a run for their money."

"N—no, sir," she said.

"Why not?" said the lawyer, who thought this a most improbable state of affairs.

"Because he—he left me," she said. It seems that about four weeks ago he disappeared, leaving her at home.

"We had separated," she said, with a quaver in her volce.

She said she didn't know where he had gone, but his mother had had a telegram from him saying that he was in a hospital in Bisbee.

"Where is she?" saked the lawyer.

"She's here; she's in court with me now."

But the mother was not called to the stand, and the girl left the room with her trying to keep from crying.

The first two shots missed me, and I ran into the kitchen. He followed me, and shot again, hitting me on the head. I threw my hand to my head as I fell down, and that's the way I got the next shot through my hand. The next shot hit me right here above the eye."

Mrs. Mary Willey and Miss Gussie Bigelow corroborated her story. Special Officer Markham, who arrested Walsh on the road, about two miles south of the city, told of the arrest, and of conversations he had with Walsh, in which he acknowledged the shooting. At first he told Markham that he was not the man; then he asked:

"Is she dead?"
Alarkham said she was, for he had been so informed.

"Well, if she's dead," repiled Walsh, "that's all I want, and you've got the right man."

Walsh made no defense, but asked a few unimportant questions in the ling of justification for his act, which they were not permitted to answer.

he was not relicent in dilating upon the advanages likely to accrue to all parties concerned.

"The matter was gone into with painstaking care," said Division Superintendent Ingram, "and only after Mr. Harriman had been impressed with the necessity for many changes. But a combination of circumstances have tended to unsettle the financial market in the East, and for that reason the scheme has been dropped for the time being.
"It is reasonably certain," added Mr. Ingram. "that if the other railroads are willing to consolidate forces a handsome and imposing union depot will be built. Of course, I am assuming that the present Arcade depot would be taken as the nucleus of the site for such a depot, for the reason that here only is the difficulty of obtaining the land necessary, to be solved. Merely with the idea of enlarging our own idea the company has purchased property fronting on Central avenue that with our yards extends nearly to Sixth street, and in the opposite direction nearly to Third street."

When Mr. Harriman arrived in Los Angeles the last time he was not particularly pleased to see piles of buggage adorning the depot platform. He advised that the baggage room be enlarged; but when told that the capture of the baggage quarters had been just doubled within the last six months he refrained from further remark at the time. He did, however, proceed to make a somewhat minute examination into the details of the operating department here, and as a result of that examination he is credited with a strong personal enthusiasm in the development of this city. The plan for a union depot seemed to him the wisest, because the most convenient to the public and the most economical from an operating standpoint, and plans were drawn for a structure that if erected will be an ornament to the olly.

STEEL CORPORATION'S SWEEPING WAGE CUT.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The United States Steel Corporation will, on January 1 next, put into effect a general system of economy which will result in a reduction of wages of employes from 5 to 20 per cent. The sweeping order will affect over 180,000 out of 186,000 employes. All of the 186,000, however, will, within a year, suffer reduction in their wages. Many have contracts which do not run out until later in the year.

The yearly saving under the new plan of economy will be about 342, 200,000. It is unofficially announced that those who subscribed to the stock of the United States Steel Corporation under the plan announced last year.

ALL ENGLISH COTTON MILLS TO SHUT DOWN.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

Dispatch.] Practically all the cotton mills in England have agreed to shut down for three months on account of the high price of cotton, Owing to its reliable source, this report is given credence here, and is causing much discussion.

Bince the advance in price of raw material it has been expected that manufacturers—of cofton goods would curtail production. Pewo of the English mills have supplied their wants for raw material. This makes a general curtailment possible, which may result in quickly forcing up prices on all classes of manufactured goods.

ITALIAN CONSULAR AGENT IS DEAD.

J AMES S. CASTRUCCIO, one of the city, italian consular agent and who, during his nearly thirty years' residence in Los Angeles, was active in all great public moveements, died shortly before midnight at his home. No. 1502 Santee street. His death was due to pneumonia, from which he had been confined to his bed six days. He had been suffering from a slight illness for more than a month, but his health improving he went to Santa Monica and took a bath in the surf, as had been his habit. In his weakened condition this caused a cold which developed into pneumonia, and, although he had the best of medical attention, his physicians were unable to successfully combat the ravages of that disease.

The deceased was a native of Chiavari, province of Genoa, Italy, and at the time of his death was 52 years of the city. No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

S. W. Hart of Danville, Ill., sends of the Times an "open letter" adjressed to the editor of "The Appeal to Reason," a Socialist paper published in Girard, Kan. The writer gives a comprehensive review of the delusions of Socialism, as seen from the workingman's viewpoint, he being a laborer and a veteran of the Civil War, having served in the Union Army nearly four years. In his letter to the Socialist editor, Mr. Hart says, in part:

"As I undestand it, the fundamental principles of Socialism are: No individual ownership of land; the equal distribution of the earth's wealth and products; government ownership of all public enterprises and utilities. It is not difficult to explain why Socialism, if tried the world over, must ultimately fall just as it has failed in every limited trial of it in the world's history. If all people had been created alike in disposition, intellect and ability; without higher aspirations than to exist as the birds and beasts exist; content to de as their ancestors have done since the beginning of the world—then society might be wholly harmonious, at perfect peace, and have no need for the restraining influences of law and order.

"But people are not so created—they

"But people are not so created—they are not all satisfied with a fhand to mouth existence. There will always be reckefeliers, Asfors, Vanderbilts, Carnegies, Armours, Hills and Morgansmen of surpassing intellect, boundless energy and great aspirations—who will rise from the masses because they cannot he held in check. The inertia of such conditions as Socialism proposes to establish could not and would not be endured by such men. The 'share and share alike' proposition of Socialism would be destructive of all incentive and totally eliminate all aspiration for something loftier and nobler than a mere existence. Socialism would be to every active, ambitious person, allying death. Life always has been and slways will be a struggle between the weak and the strong—physically and intellectually. As Napoleon said, victory is always on the side of the heavist but goes no higher without torce behind it. Superior brain power is the force behind the stream of life. The difference between a superior man and an inferior quality of brains. Therefore, an equal distribution of property among all people could never be maintained because there, never has been, in the force behind the stream of life. The difference between a superior man is not now and never will be an equal distribution of property, and buying and selling for grain, have always been recognized as legitimate and laudable.

LONG BEACH. Dec. 14.—A company of capitalists, said to belong to Pasadens and bareis out into the flames, and the said to be the flames, and the said the flames, and the flames and bareis out into the flames active to the flames of the flames out through the purchase of the fine home of the furnament of Roses of T. L. Duque on the bluff at the foot of the avenue for which rumor has it they paid $30,000. Upon investigation it was found that these men had investigated Port Los Angeles, Santa Monica and Redondo and had decided that Long Beach has the best harbor and by far the best commercial future. A careful survey has been made of the beach out to the 1800-foot limit, the point to which the pier is to extend, and it was found to be just what is wanted. There is water enough for any ocean-going steamers, and it is well known that there are but a few days in any year when the swell would prevent them from leading and unloading alongside the pier.

These men look for a wonderful increase in the commerce of this city in the immediate future, and they propose to make their structure large enough to accommodate all of it. As the shore end will be but a few feet from the main line of the Sait Lake Railroad, there will be no difficulty in running tracks enough out to do all the loading and unloading to and from the cars and thus save much in the way of unnecessary handling. A preliminary expenditure of $30,000 is warrant that the backers mean business, and that there will be no delay if they get the franchise. C. J. Walker is handling this end of the business and the attorney for the company is E. F. Hahn of Pasadena. An application will be made to the trustees to advertise the franchise for sale as soon as the papers can be prepared, they say, and if they get it the work will be rushed.

"In speaking to you of the physical side of college education I would emphasize first that the physical development must be made only a means to an end. As Paul said, Glorify God in the body. How vital physical development is to true education has only just been recognized by our colleges. Less than fitty years ago there was not a regular college gymnasium in America. POMONA COLLEGE NOTES.

POMONA COLLEGE NOTES.

Prof. Frederick A. Bacon, head of the department of music in Pomona College, and director of the Pomona College Choral Union, announces that next month Dudley Buck's "Coming of the King" will be rendered by a chorus of sevenity-five voices in Holmes Hall Chapel. The chorus of this season is larger than ever before in college history. For two months past careful drilling has been done each Thursday night. For the solo parts of January some of the ablest soloists of Southern California are to be secured.

Under the direction of Prof. Theodore J. Irwin, head of the department of instrumental music, has been organized a party of twenty-five to hear the Beethoven Musical Symphony to be rendered in Los Angeles.

Charles D. Hurry, College State Y.M. C.A. secretary of Michigan, addressed the student body in Holmes Hall Chapel last night. He gave a powerful presentation of the subject of "The Place and Power of College Men in the World's Life." His visit is for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm in the coming Pacific Grove conference which opens December 25.

MONBOVIA

ORANGES IN DISPUTE.

MONROVIA, Dec. 14.—The California Citrus Union has laid claim to twenty boxes of oranges in the Spence packing-house, belonging to John P. Spence, who disregarded his contract with the union, on account of alleged unsatisfactory results last season, and sold these boxes to outside parties. The union expects to hold Mr. Spence to his contract.

Mrs. Larkey, wife of George E. Larkey principal of the spring-street school, Los Angeles, died at their temporary home in Monrovia this morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Graves, mother of Frank Graves and Mrs. B. R. Davisson, Duarte, will be held at Live Oak Cemetery Tuesday at 11 o'clock a.m. Mrs. Graves died on Sunday and was nearly E years of age.

Frank T. Jones has purchased property and will build a cottage at the corner of Lemon and Jasmine streets.

Charles Amon will build a cottage at the corner of Lemon and Jasmine streets.

Shipments of Christmas oranges are nearly completed, and packing-houses will be idle for two or three weeks. ORANGES IN DISPUTE.

Seems to Leave Way Clear for Incorporation of Ocean Fark-Ordinance Against Public Boozing, Gambling and Nickel-in-the-Slot Robber Machines.

REDONDO, Dec. 14.—The seventh California chapter of the P. E. O. was instituted here Friday evening under the leadership of the State organizer, Mra. Hulda S. Miller. The chapter opens Hulda S. Miller. The chapter opens with the following-named members: George Anderson, Culp, Cavanaugh, Smith, Gillespie, Man and Russell; Misses Dickson, Blind, Smith and Gray. In the ceremonies Mrs. Miller was assisted by the following-named Los Angeles ladies: Mrs. Sexton, Mrs. E. Hutchins, Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. Carver, Miss Stewart, Mrs. Winans, Miss Noble and Miss Quick. Chapter H entertained the Les Angeles ladies at the home of Mrs. Mean. Later the ladies were received at the home of Mrs. George H. Anderson, The organization of the chapter makes possible a State Chapter for California. SANTA MONICA, Dec. 14.—Santa Monica will not expand, at least fust at present, as the territory outside of the city refused to come in by a vote of 19 to 11. Thirty votes were cast in the territory between Marine street and Rose avenue. Ten men were challenged, four were refused the privilege of casting ballots—three on the ground of illegal residence, hile the other man had removed from the precinct and acquired a residence in Los Angeles. In precinct No. 1 of Santa Monica, 101 votes were cast out of a registration of 450. There were 92 year and 9 nays. SANTA MONICA. Dec. 14.-Santa

In precinct No. 2 out of a registration of 600, 135 votes were cast, 131 yeas and 4 nays.

The result hinged upon the votes in the outside district, that is the territory proposed to be annexed, and as a majority against was cast therein the question was defeated, notwithstanding the overwhelming majority in favor of annexation within the incorporated limits of Santa Monica.

The defeat of annexation now leaves the way open for the incorporation of Ocean Park, the petition for which is now before the Board of Supervisors, and which on November 18 was set for further hearing the 22d inst. Had annexation carried today it is believed there would not have been sufficient population in the proposed new town to entitle it to incorporation. No doubt whatever is expressed as to there being a majority in favor of incorporation when the vote is taken on the question.

having stolen a new $50 Tribune bicycle from the store of Leavitt & Bill, No. $30 South Spring street, Los Angeles. Freund tried to sell the wheel to Hathaway for $15, and the latter, suspecting all was not right, detained Freund on a pretext until he could communicate with Los Angeles. On learning that such a wheel had been stolen the deputy placed his suspect under arrest. On the way to Jail Freund made a break for liberty and Hathaway. In drawing his revolver, shot himself severely in the hand. He kept running, however, until he caught his man. Freund looks about 21 years old and now admits his guilt. He will have a preliminary hearing in the Justice Court here.

NEWS BRIEFS. It is not believed that steps for a free holders' charter will be taken here for at least two years as the term here for at least two years as the term of office of the present Board of Trustees will not expire for three years from next April, and they have the matter of chiling an election for free-holders entirely in their own hands. A census must also be taken to determine the population and an interview with a majority of the members of the present board shows that they will take no steps to legislate themselves out of office, and there is no law compelling them to dp so.

AGAINST GAMBLING. NEWS BRIEFS.

VACATION WEEK LONGER. The public schools were scheduled to close on Friday, the 18th, but at a meeting of the Board of Education Saturday evening it was decided to close this morning for the holidays, giving the children three instead of two weeks. There will be no spring vacation of a week in April or May as has heretofore been the custom. E. J. Baldwin has returned from a business trip to San Francisco. Mrs. A. G. Dunning and two children arrived here from Chicago on Thursday to spend the winter with her mother and sister.

Miss Almand of Pomona has taken the Arthur Carter cottage on Grand View avenue for the winter.

Attorney Huribert arrived from Kansas on Friday to Join his wife and children here.
